Make Money Faster,
Win More Customers

No matter where you sit along the lifecycle of additive manufacturing, Accio3D provides the industry's first AI-driven marketplace for 3D printing suppliers to find new customers and accelerate revenue growth.

Connect, Collaborate, Transact

Accio3D's marketplace brings together customers, engineering firms, and 3D printing service providers. Inside the marketplace, you can connect, collaborate, and transact with new customers. Our AI assists suppliers in finding the right customers, discovering new opportunities, and bidding on projects. It attracts a broader set of customers by enabling new use cases, such as low-volume production parts and end-of-life spare parts.

Accio3D's AI agents match the right parts with the right suppliers based on recommended materials, machinery, certifications, capacity, and business case. Agents also help customers find engineering partners who can design parts for additive manufacturing, generate CAD drawings, and test and certify parts once printed. It all happens in one place.
